Take the Stress Out of the Season

The most wonderful time of the year can be a bit stressful, don't you agree? But, you don't have to go it alone. The folks at Joe's Produce Gourmet Market and their family of fine foods can help with your holiday meals.

Meet Joe's Market Family

Along with outstanding ready-to-eat side dishes and entrees from Joe's Gourmet-to-Go counter, you'll discover everything else that Joe's has to offer:

- Joe's Produce Gourmet Market and Catering offers complete meals, well-stocked buffets, strolling stations and, of course, amazing desserts. It's all customized to your budget, theme, and guest list.
- Joe's Meat and Seafood is the largest butcher counter in the area with USDA Prime Choice meats, wild-caught and farmed-raised fish, and fresh, flown-in seafood.
- Art of Bread by Joe's offers delicious hand-crafted bread, pies, and pastries baked in a stone hearth oven.
- And finally, an expanded beer and wine selection has choices available to suit all palates. Just ask Paul, their wine steward, for recommendations!

Entertaining with Good Taste

To prepare for your special occasion, start with a visit to Joe's Café. They have an assortment of seasonal paper napkins, paper plates, fresh flowers, holiday-wrapped candies, and wintry pine arrangements to create a festive feeling and add a little fun to your holiday table.

Beverages with a Twist

Are you creating a breakfast, brunch, lunch, or dinner? With any one of these meals, you'll need a starter beverage. Once you've greeted your guests, start them off with a festive drink. Either a glass of Champagne, prosecco, cava, or sparkling wine. For your guests who don't drink alcohol, create a refreshing mocktail with fresh-squeezed orange juice from Joe's, plus a little cranberry juice and some lime-flavored sparkling water, and a slice of lime. Bubbly can also be served after your meal.

Appetizers Made Easy

Ideas for appetizers are a breeze with the help of Spencer and Mike, the cheesemongers. They'll help you arrange the best cheese and charcuterie tray ever. Joe's has cured meats and cheeses for every budget and palate. They suggest serving a fresh hearth-baked baguette from Art of Bread by Joe's to accompany your tray.

Entrees to Please

Now for the main entree. It's the centerpiece of your holiday table. Picking the perfect main dish doesn't have to be complicated with the help of Joe's Meat and Seafood's butchers and fishmongers. They'll help you choose the ideal prime cut of meat or seafood, tell you how much to serve, and even share a recipe or two.

Pairings for Every Palate

You'll enjoy pairing your courses with an ideal wine. Joe's Market has a large selection of wine from all over the world to satisfy every preference and pocketbook. From Champagne as a starter, to ending with the perfect port, Joe's has it all. Save an extra 10% when you purchase six or more bottles of non-sale wines.
